

Large companies tend toward making their own rules; almost always this is to help their bottom line. Media conglomerates should always lean toward serving the public interest.

I personally feel that the airing of an anti-Kerry documentary by Sinclair Broadcasting shortly before the Presidential election is not in the best public interest.

Jane Dunkle
Sheffield PA 16347